

And now, bless the God of all,
Who has done wondrous things
On earth!

Never Enough Room Do not turn this sheet over. There is just this one little note because there is not enough paper for me to express my gratitude for a wonderful Principal's Appreciation Day. Yes, I am an avid fan of Broadway musical, and I am so grateful that you have provided me with the means for another season of enjoyment. With my doctoral studies, it is difficult to create a balance between work-study-and play, but you have made this much easier for me. Thank you! I told the children in the morning, when you work at the best school on the Peninsula, you do not count the hours or think of the sacrifice, collaboration and service just come naturally! The faculty, students, and you make it all worth it!

May these next few days be full of every blessing and grace. As you give thanks, look around your table and be thankful for the many little things. God's love can be discovered everywhere. Do not forget to look within and remember how much he loves you. For as we make those discoveries within ourselves, not only does his love become more obvious in every moment of our lives, but we become vessels of love – we become those who plant the seeds for tomorrow. So, as you go about during these days of Thanksgiving – uncover the God within you, discover the God around you, and recover a bit of the peace and joy he has set before you both now and forever!
